

73rd Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting

Once a year, Nobel Laureates convene in Lindau to meet the next generation of leading scientists; 500–600 undergraduates, Ph.D. students, and postdoc researchers from all over the world. The Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings offers young scientist a unique opportunity to meet scientists from different generations, cultures, and disciplines. Next year's meeting is dedicated to physics.

Do you want to be a part of the 73rd Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting?

Photo: Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings

The call for applications from Swedish undergraduates and researchers to attend the 73rd Lindau Nobel Laureate Meeting is now open.

The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences in collaboration with the Ragnar Söderberg Foundation are responsible for recommending Swedish participants to the Lindau Review Panel. The panel then makes the final selection. Participation is fully funded by the Ragnar Söderberg Foundation and the Foundation Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings.

The meeting will be held from 30 June–5 July 2024.

Photo: Julia Nimke/Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings

Photo: Julia Nimke/Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings

Photo: Julia Nimke/Lindau Nobel Laureate Meetings

Applications must be submitted by 25 October 2023.

www.kva.se/lindau24